Civil Gatherings in Korea

CJPM Operations Division

Agenda

- Background
- Demonstrations
- Cultural Events
- Conclusion

Background

- Civil gatherings in Korea are a popular form of freedom of speech and expression for Korean citizens
- There are two main types of civil gatherings: cultural events and demonstrations
- Not all demonstrations are violent, and the majority are not related to the U.S. or the United States Forces Korea (USFK)
- Demonstration locations are not always known in advance

Demonstrations

- Actions by USFK personnel which draw negative media attention could generate nationwide protests
- Peak times for anti-USFK demonstrations are during peninsula-wide exercises such as RSOI and UFL

Cultural Events

- Throughout the year Koreans gather to celebrate various festivals, exhibitions, music concerts, religious holidays or in observance of historical events

Conclusion

- Be alert to your surroundings, monitor force protection advisories and check online civil gathering updates regularly
- Do not participate, agitate, observe, or photograph any demonstration; leave the area immediately
- Be able to recognize the differences between a cultural event and a demonstration
- Demonstrations are not always known of in advance; maintain situational awareness and utilize the buddy system when traveling off-post
- A current list of Civil Gatherings can be found at:
